

Junior Technical Writer part-time

Oracle NetSuite has an exciting new intern program for technical writers in Brno.

We're looking for enthusiastic, tech-savvy students to join our growing team of professional writers documenting NetSuite. We produce engaging, high-quality documentation that helps customers use our software to run their businesses with ease. Put simply, it's our job to make sure customers feel like they always have a NetSuite expert by their side.

POSITION REQUIREMENTS

- Collaborate on the design of quality documentation that adheres to a common language and style guide
- Work closely with product teams to learn about complex technical concepts
- Publish official documentation that goes out to more than 30,000 companies
- Be coached by experienced technical writers, developers, and quality assurance professionals
- Learn about the agile software development process and how to become an invaluable member of a scrum team
- Create, edit, and enhance technical documentation using industry-standard DocBook XML
- Script video tutorials and assist with their production
- Build your career in a busy but relaxed environment with plenty of fun

REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS

- Excellent written English and verbal communication skills
- Strong attention to detail
- A passion for technology and learning software products
- Critical thinking and problem-solving skills
- Eagerness to learn from and share with others
- Be a team player, but can work independently too
- Minimum of 20 hours per week (with a possibility to work more)

WE OFFER

- Permanent contract (for 20-30 hours) with full company benefits
- Non-standard salary compensation
- Senior Technical Writer as a mentor
- Engagement with the global team
- Career development and growth within the Technical Writing team

Apply today if you're looking to make a difference to a team that rewards greatness!
Contact our Talent Advisor on ldolezalova@netsuite.com